MORE GIFTS, the sequel to Adela Amador's beloved TWELVE GIFTS recipe collection, has been reprinted with the original art and calligraphy by Claiborne O'Connor.

TWELVE GIFTS (1991) and MORE GIFTS (1992) brought Adela Amador to the attention of NEW MEXICO MAGAZINE. She authored one of their most popular columns, Southwest Flavor; from 1993 to 2006, and a book by the same name in 2000. More of Adela's stories were compiled into the book, UNDERCURRENTS: New Mexico Stories Then and Now (Amador Publishers, 1999).

The popularity of Adela's work has helped sustain the small press she founded with her husband, author Harry Willson, in 1986. The couple have published a variety of books ranging from Southwest and fantasy fiction, to biography, philosophy and satire. In 2006, one of their authors, Zelda Gatuskin (THE TIME DANCER, ANCESTRAL NOTES, CASTLE LARK), joined the press as co-owner and editor. Claiborne (a.k.a. "Mike") O'Connor has provided cover art and illustrations for many Amador Publishers titles over the years, beginning with the very first one, Harry Willson's DUKE CITY TALES.

Adela, Harry, Zelda and Mike, will be available to greet the public at the Amador Publishers Mothers Day Book Bash on Sunday May 11, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. at the Art is... OK & Company Gallery & Sculpture Plaza. The complete line of Amador books will be available for sale, and O'Connor's original art boards for MORE GIFTS will be on view. Refreshments will include some of the favorite Amador family recipes included in Adela's books. The event is free and open to the public.

The Art Is... OK & Company Gallery & Sculpture Plaza, located at 3301 Menaul Blvd. NE is, like Amador Publishers, one of Albuquerque's long-standing cultural institutions. Founded by internationally acclaimed sculptor OK Harris, the plaza boasts one of the city's largest displays of outdoor sculpture. The indoor gallery is equally impressive, and provides a delightful community space for artists and art patrons to mingle. It has become a favorite location for Amador Publishers' semi-annual "Book Bash" event.

Amador Publishers books are available for sale at Art Is... OK & Company year round, as well as at local bookstores and gift shops, and direct from the publisher by calling 505-877-4395, or visiting the web site: www.amadorbooks.com Retailers may order direct from publisher, or from Books West in Denver, or Territory Titles in Albuquerque. Media may contact publisher regarding author interviews and review copies: 505-877-4395, or e-mail, harry@amadorbooks.com.
